CONGRESSIONAL.

House.

[Continuation of yesterday's report.]

[illegible]

A Member—And candidates for Congress.

Blaine—No, I don't [illegible]

The consideration was [illegible] on the motion [illegible]

Caulfield offered [illegible] amendment, but the [illegible] was received with triumphant shouts [illegible] from the Republican [illegible]

The vote was reconsidered—yeas 206, nays 4.

Now rose to a question of privilege, and stated that he himself [illegible] and Smith of Pennsylvania, three of the members of the select committee on the real estate pool, had been subpoenaed to appear to-day before the grand jury of the district, and desired to submit the matter for instruction of the House. They were instructed to testify.

Blaine then offered the proposed amendment to the bill prohibiting election contributions from government clerks. The amendment is to include Senators, Representatives and delegates in Congress, and to add the words "and the contribution of money or other valuable things as herein prohibited by any Senator, Representative or delegate in Congress while he was a candidate for Congress shall in addition to the penalties herein prescribed operate as a disqualification to his holding his seat."

Amendments were also offered by Reagan, Hewitt of Alabama and Brown of Kentucky, which are to be considered when the bill next comes up.

Beach offered a resolution calling for a statement of the accounts of the Navy Department with its fiscal agents at London for every year since 1868. Adopted.

The House then went into committee of the whole, Cox in the chair, on the legislative and judicial appropriations.

Speeches were made by Hubbell against Morrison's tariff bill and by Foster of Ohio, a member of the appropriation committee, in criticism of the reductions proposed in the legislative appropriation bill, claiming that they are of so sweeping a character as seriously to impair the effective working of the various departments of the government.

Holman, another member of the committee, defended the bill.

In the course of Holman's remarks the question turned on the new rule adopted this session allowing appropriations to be reported at less than rates fixed by law.

Blaine gave it as his opinion that the new rule would prove to be the Trojan horse on which, under the device of retrenchment, all sorts of matters foreign to the subject of the bill could be engrafted on an appropriation bill, and when subjected to the action of the Senate and conference committees it would be found to be a more grievous rule than the one which had prevailed before, namely, that salaries might be increased, but not diminished, in appropriation bills—a rule which had been established twenty years ago by a Democratic House and which he (Blaine) had been forced to administer when Speaker. He also alluded to the fact that grades of department clerks had been established in 1854 at $1 200, $1 400, $1 600 and $1 800, and had never been increased since, while the pay of members of Congress, which was at the same time fixed at $3 000, had since gone up to $5 000, an increase of sixty per cent, and now, he said, the Democratic majority in the House tried to mislead the country by representing that they were willing to submit their own salaries to the same shaving and discount to which other salaries were subjected. They took 10 per cent off their own salaries, which had been advanced 60 per cent, and they took 10 per cent off the pay of poor clerks who had not had any advance since 1854. If they were sincere they should put the salary of members of Congress where it was in 1854, and then put on the planing machine of 10 per cent, and go before the country honestly. (Applause in the galleries.)

Holman said that he agreed very fully with the gentleman from Maine in that subject, but he (Holman) could not be diverted by that speech, although a very good one, from the question of the rule which he had been discussing. He contended that the old rule was in the interest of those who wished to bleed the Treasury, while the new one was in the interest of retrenchment.

Blaine repeated that the old rule applied only to salaries, but the new one applied to any subject of legislation no matter how foreign to the bill.

Holman continued to defend the action of the committee in recommending reduction.

After a long discussion the committee rose without action on the bill.

Wells of Mississippi introduced a bill to pay bounties to colored soldiers and their widows and heirs; referred. Adjourned.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Frelinghuysen, from the committee on foreign relations, reported favorably on the petition of the New York Chamber of Commerce in relation to the Japanese indemnity fund, and reported a bill in relation to the payment of said fund.

The morning hour having expired, the Senate resumed the consideration of Senate bill No. 1, providing for counting the votes for President and Vice President.

Morton asked that the Senate remain in session to-day until the bill was disposed of.

After debate by White and Thurman, Johnston briefly discussed the amendment offered by himself, which [illegible]

The question then recurred on the following amendment proposed by Maxey—"but if the two Houses fail to agree as to which of the returns shall be counted, the President of the Senate as presiding officer of the two Houses shall decide which is the true and valid return, and the same shall be counted." After debate the amendment was lost—yeas 7, nays 38. After a short executive session the Senate adjourned.

House.

Hopkins offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for all correspondence on the subject of the change of officers of the custom house at Pittsburg, and also for a statement of all the influence which induced the revocation of the request for the resignation of the surveyor of the port of Pittsburg. Adopted.

On motion of Atkins the Senate amendments to the bill supplying the deficiency in the appropriation for certain Indian tribes were concurred in.

The House then took up the bill reported yesterday from the judiciary committee prohibiting contributions to election funds by officers of the United States government, the question being on the amendment offered by Blaine to extend the application of the bill to Senators, Representatives and Delegates in Congress.

Kier, from the committee on invalid pensions, reported bills providing that all pensions on account of death by wound received or wounds contracted in the service of the United States since [illegible] shall commence from the date of death or discharge [illegible]

Young presented the petition of the chamber of commerce of Memphis asking to have the Signal Service enlarged.

Blaine proceeded to address the House [illegible]

[illegible] Holman expressed the opinion that both sides of the House were willing to participate in any movement [illegible] would secure purity in elections [illegible]

Blaine [illegible] that the government of the United States has a perfect right to prescribe the time, place and manner of holding the elections for representatives in Congress.

Holman—Undoubtedly it has its right.

Blaine—Is the gentleman in favor of exercising it?

Holman—[illegible] with a proper regard [illegible] legislation of the States.

Blaine—[illegible] in favor of exercising it to that end.

Holman—So far as its legislation applies to members of Congress I think it proper, but I do not think [illegible] to cure the evils of State legislation.

Blaine expressed the belief that the colored voters in the South had not a fair chance of voting. It was not enough to destroy bribery outside so long as the spectre ghost of rascality stood within. He moved the previous question.

The House refused to second previous question.

Goode said he sympathized with the amendment offered by the gentleman from Maine, but he considered it open to the constitutional objection that it would have the same effect as an impeachment in so far as the penalty was removal from office.

Blaine suggested that he would modify his amendment.

Goode remarked that no proposition to modify the amendment had been made until after his criticism on it. This was an important bill, intended to apply a remedy to the most flagrant outrageous wrongs, and the gentleman from Maine ought not to be allowed to encumber it with grave constitutional difficulties. At Norfolk, at the navy yard, no man could get any employment without recommendation from the Republican executive committee. As to his colleague, so called (Stowell), that gentleman hailed from what was called the Black District of Virginia, where there were not enough white Republicans to furnish judges who could read and write; the election judges had therefore been Democrats.

Cox, who had been occupying the Speaker's chair, came down to the floor and rushed into the fray, striking first at Blaine, whom he accused of shedding crocodile tears over this subject, then aiming his shafts of ridicule at a California member [illegible] and exhibiting what he called the tapeworm ballot used by the employes at Mare Island navy yard to compel them to vote the Republican ticket, and owning up generally that one political party was about as bad as the other in regard to these election frauds. The debate was further continued by Tufts, Caulfield and Southard. Finally the House proceeded to vote on the bill and the various amendments. The vote was first taken on Townsend's amendment, providing that expenditures for election purposes allowed by the laws of any State should not be construed as being affected by the act; rejected.

The next amendment in order was Blaine's amendment including Senators, representatives and delegates in Congress in the provisions of the bill. Blaine called for the yeas and nays and the amendment was agreed to. Yeas 128, nays 88.

The next vote was on Blaine's amendment to the substitute offered by Brown of Kentucky, being the same amendment as offered by Blaine to the original bill and adopted. The amendment was rejected—ayes 102, nays 107.

The next vote was on the amendment offered by Goode to Brown's substitute, making it a misdemeanor for any person to use force, menace, violence or bribery to influence the elections of President, Vice President, Senator, Representatives or Delegate in Congress. Adopted—yeas 212, nays 4.

The next vote was on the amendment offered by Reagan as a substitute for the first section of Brown's substitute, making it unlawful for any officer, postmaster, clerk or employe of the United States, or for any Senator or member of Congress, to solicit, ask, receive or accept any gift for election purposes. Rejected.

The next vote was on Brown's substitute. The first section is that no officer or employe of the government shall require or request, give to, or receive from any other officer or employe of the same or other person, directly or indirectly, any money or property, or any other thing of value for political purposes, and any such officer or employe who shall offend against the provisions of this act shall at once be dismissed from the service of the United States, and also be deemed guilty of a high crime and misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof be fined not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, at the discretion of the Judge trying the case. The second section is the amendment offered by Goode and adopted. The third section gives the [illegible] district courts jurisdiction of the offenses created by the act. The substitute was agreed to without yeas and nays, and the bill as thus amended was passed, yeas 173, nays 8. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Belknap Investigation.

[illegible] Evans detailed the circumstances surrounding his obtaining permission from Marsh to remain at Fort Sill. It was a matter of necessity with him [illegible] to come to terms with Marsh. [illegible]

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska appeared before the committee to deny that he had ever promised [illegible] a post tradership in event of that person supporting him for the senatorship.

Hawkins Taylor, formerly of Iowa, a lobbyist, gave an account of lobby operations by which he obtained a post tradership for Dr. [illegible] Bradford. The influence of the Maine delegation, with the exception of Morrill, was secured for Bradford. Witness received $100 for his services. Secretary Belknap said he would appoint Bradford, for he [illegible] to do a good act for Senator Hamlin. Bradford got the tradership [illegible] and was afterward dismissed. The witness procured a tradership at Fort Stanton for R. M. Stevens, for which service he received $150. The witness gave a further account of his doings and the committee adjourned.

Sale of Post Traderships.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Dr. Bradford was before the committee on expenditures in the War Department to-day and gave a statement relating to his appointment as trader at Fort Craig, and as to the money he had given the lobbyist Hawkins Taylor to procure it for him from the Secretary of War. [illegible]

Bradford said he had agreed to pay Taylor $1 000 a year as long as he retained the tradership. He received the appointment at Fort Craig, but it was taken away from him after he had made arrangements for goods, and given to a brother of Delegate [illegible] of New Mexico. [illegible]

D. V. Peck testified he received money from Bradford for Hawkins Taylor, but disagreed with Bradford as to the amount.

[illegible] Evans was recalled and explained that he in fact did not personally introduce him to the Secretary [illegible] Adjourned.

Marsh Arrives.

C. P. Marsh and wife will arrive here to-morrow [illegible]

Bill Against Chinese Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The bill introduced by [illegible] to-day makes it mandatory upon the collectors of customs to execute the law of last year [illegible] immigrants from China. Upon receiving [illegible] the affidavits of [illegible] citizens that such people are on board any vessel, the act requires them to be excluded.

Right of Way for a Wagon Road.

Page introduced a bill to grant a right of way for a wagon road from Chinese Camp to Yosemite.

Bill with Regard to Coolies.

Luttrell to-day introduced a bill to prohibit all contracts for servile labor, providing it shall be felony to make or enforce them, and prescribing the penalty of forfeiture of any vessel transporting coolies without consular certificates showing their immigration was voluntary.

Treasurer New Desires to Resign.

Minister Presented to the President.

Manuel M. Peralta, the newly appointed minister resident from Costa Rica, was to-day presented to the President by the Secretary of State.

Dana's Nomination.

The foreign relations committee reported back the nomination of R. H. Dana, Jr., as minister to England, with a recommendation that it be not confirmed. It was placed on the calendar with adverse reports.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—In the executive session of the Senate the nomination of Dana, with the adverse report thereon, came up in the regular order of business, but was laid over for further action. No other date was assigned for its consideration, but it will probably be acted on in a few days.

Collection of Revenues in Alaska.

The report of Special Agent Morrison on the collection of revenues in Alaska recommends the passage of Sargent's bill to repeal the Indian [illegible] now in force there. Morrison opposes the continuance of military rule, but pronounces the annexation of Alaska to Washington Territory, as proposed by Mitchell's bill, unwise and impracticable. He argues that the government and control of Alaska matters should be wholly vested in the President and Secretary of the Treasury, as the customs laws, coast trade and commerce properly appertain only to the Treasury Department, and there is no need of any other government there. The employment of revenue cutters in Alaskan waters is recommended, and their proper cruising grounds indicated.

Deficiencies in the Clerk's Office.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The House committee on appropriations to-day had under consideration the item of $6,000 to supply deficiencies in the office of the clerk of the House, that amount being necessary to defray the expenses of investigating committees.

The New Tariff.

The committee of ways and means had a session to-day on Morrison's tariff bill. The first section, treating of the revision of the duty on cotton, was considered and about one third of it passed upon. The entire section will be finished to-morrow. There seems less disposition to disagree about particulars of the bill than was anticipated. The duty on unbleached cotton, proposed by Morrison at 2½ cents per yard, was raised to 3 by the committee. Morrison is sanguine that the bill perfected by the committee will pass the House.

A Fair Proposition to Furnish Gold and Silver.

NEW YORK, March 22.—A Washington dispatch says rumors are current that James G. Fair, who is here, has made a proposition to furnish the Treasury with sixty million dollars gold and silver within 28 months, and to take bonds for the same. It is not known, however, what rate of interest is desired on the bonds. The proposition is under consideration.

NEW YORK REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 21.—A large majority of delegates to the Republican convention are here to-night. The drift of its sentiment is very distinct, and no doubt it is controlled by friends of Conkling.

SYRACUSE, March 22.—A. B. Cornell, Chairman of the State Central Committee, called the Republican State Convention to order to-day in Wieting Hall. Cornell in his speech said for the first time in six [illegible] years the choice of a Presidential candidate is open to discussion. No distinct public sentiment points to a candidate whose nomination [illegible] conceded.

George H. Haskins was chosen temporary chairman, with the usual number of secretaries. A long discussion took place on the question whether the rules of the Senate or Assembly should govern the convention. George William Curtis advocated the adoption of the Senate's rules, arguing that if the Assembly rules are adopted it will be in the power of the [illegible] reporting resolutions to the convention [illegible] the previous question and thus cut off debate [illegible] This majority vote is regarded as showing the [illegible] strength of Senator Conkling in the convention. A committee on permanent organization and resolutions was appointed and recess taken till 3 o'clock this afternoon.

On reassembling Geo. Dawson was elected permanent chairman, with a long list of Vice Presidents.

Dawson addressed the convention at length. A. B. Cornell, Andrew D. White, Theodore M. Pomeroy and James M. Mathews were appointed delegates at large to the national convention, and E. A. Merritt, H. D. Garnett, Geo. B. Sloan and Alfred C. Judson alternates. The following resolutions were reported:

The Republicans of New York in this centennial of the nation reaffirm the sacred truths and principles of their fathers and make the following declaration: We are for the unity of the nation and the just rights of States, for the full recognition and enduring harmony of all sections, for the inviolate preservation of the results of the war and the constitutional rights of every citizen, for thorough retrenchment and reform, for the unsparing pursuit, exposure and punishment of public frauds and official dishonesty, for the elevation of the public service, and a pure and efficient government, for maintaining unimpaired the national credit and honor, for a sound currency of coin or paper convertible into coin.

We charge the Democratic party with being the same in character and spirit as when it sympathized with treason, with making its control of the House of Representatives the triumph and opportunity of the nation's recent foes, reasserting and applauding in the national capital the sentiments of unrepentant rebellion, with sending Union soldiers to the rear and promoting Confederate soldiers to the front, with deliberately proposing to repudiate the plighted faith of the Government, with being equally false and imbecile upon overshadowing financial questions, with thwarting the ends of justice by its partisan mismanagement [illegible] in the lower House of Congress, with proving itself utterly incompetent to administer the government, and we warn the country against trusting a party alike unworthy, recreant and incapable. Without regard to past differences [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] both resolutions were again read, and Curtis moved the [illegible] for them.

Resolved, That while we would rejoice with pride if the candidate [illegible] in the election of this [illegible] should be selected from among the Republicans of New York [illegible] confidence that it will [illegible] the name of some tried and true Republican whose character and career [illegible] pledges [illegible] and vigorous administration of the Government.

Curtis [illegible] proceeded to the stage amid applause and cheers, and made a strong speech in support of his substitute. After a long and sharp debate the substitute was rejected—yeas 111, nays 250. So the amendment was lost. The original resolutions were then adopted [illegible] and the convention adjourned.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Bishop Paderborn.

LONDON, March 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette's Berlin special has the following details in the matter of Bishop Paderborn: The Bishop's unexpected departure from Holland was occasioned by a demand from the Prussian government to the Dutch government for either his extradition or expulsion. The demand was promptly acted on. The Dutch minister of justice, giving the necessary order at once to the State prosecutor, who called upon the Bishop without stating any reason, to quit the kingdom within a fortnight, and threatening extradition if he failed to comply. The Bishop left on Saturday and proceeded to England, where he has already formally declared that he intends continuing to conduct the administration of his diocese.

Snow has fallen quite generally in the South of England to-day. A heavy snow storm occurred at Rome yesterday.

Advices from Sebastian, Spain, announce a heavy snow storm there. A fearful hurricane occurred in the provinces and along the coast of the Mediterranean, great damage having been done.

Meeting of the French Senate.

VERSAILLES, March 23.—The floor and galleries of the Senate chamber were crowded to-day by members and spectators anticipating an exciting scene on the presentation of the amnesty proposition. Towards the close of the sitting Victor Hugo read a motion proposing a general amnesty for all acts committed during the reign of the Commune. He made no speech.

A considerable tumult arose among the members of the Right, and M. Paris of the Right shouted: "Do you propose amnesty even for the murderers of hostages?"

M. Hugo did not reply.

M. Dufaure proposed that the motion be declared urgent, and said among those to whom the proposal applies are some who regret the excesses into which circumstances led them, and by their toils and regrets they have merited clemency, and the President will exercise the right of pardon in their favor; but for those who committed crimes, and who while remaining enemies of society employ on the frontiers the most ingenious means for introducing into France writings which calumniate society and the government, amnesty is impossible, and the ministry will suppose its urgency was voted unanimously.

The President of the Senate announced the death of M. Maurice, a Senator from the department of the Nord, and the sitting adjourned.

In the Chamber of Deputies M. Raspail read a motion for general amnesty similar to that offered by Victor Hugo in the Senate.

M. Marque, of the Left, proposed an amnesty for political press offenses.

M. Rouvier, of the Left, introduced a motion similar to that of M. Marque, but giving in detail categories of offenses to which amnesty is to be applied.

The Bonapartists protested against M. Raspail's motion and demanded the names of deputies who signed it.

M. Paul De Cassagnac said he wished to know the members who compose the "pantheon" of assassins.

M. Perin, of the Left, replied: "The assassins of the coup d'etat owe some indulgence to the assassins of the commune."

M. Ricard, minister of the interior, proposed that the amnesty motion be declared urgent, but the government opposed all propositions for amnesty. It firmly intends to cause the decisions of tribunals to be respected. It would be dishonoring the country to treat the criminals of the commune as victims of political discord.

M. Raspail and Brisson, of the Left, opposed the motives of declaring urgency advanced by the government. They claimed urgency solely in the name of humanity.

M. Ricard asked whether it would be humane to raise false hopes in the minds of the relatives of prisoners. He said the President would reconcile his duties to the country with the rights of humanity. Urgency was finally voted unanimously.

The chamber before adjourning adopted a resolution instituting an inquiry into the election of the Compte de [illegible], formerly chamberlain of the Emperor.

M. Raspail, Jr., introduced a bill depriving the government of the right to nominate mayors.

The committee on amnesty motions will be appointed to-morrow.

The Times special dispatch from Paris states that the French government demanded the urgency of the amnesty motions so as to disarm the irreconcilables. The latter had themselves resolved to demand urgency, thinking they would thus be able to show their strength, as many deputies would certainly have voted for urgency, which pledges them to nothing, although resolved to vote against complete amnesty.

In the Chamber of Deputies, M. Rickard said: "As a member of the Ministry I am animated by no feelings of hatred. We oppose amnesty, but not measures of individual clemency."

Committee of Inquiry Asked for.

LONDON, March 21.—In the House of Commons last night Cameron moved for a committee to inquire into the prolonged imprisonment and ill treatment of the crew of the British ship Talisman by the Peruvian government. Bourke, under the foreign secretary, stated that the government had telegraphed to Lima that the remaining prisoners, viz: the captain and mate of the Talisman, must be at once tried, or England would demand their release. The allegations with regard to ill treatment would be forwarded to the English representative in Peru, and if he reported them correct the government would consult the law officers of the Crown as to the advisability of demanding compensation.

Sir Henry James urged that the Peruvian government had had full opportunity to try the prisoners. The time had arrived to demand their release, and asked the government to give assurance, if the prisoners remained untried, they would make a demand for the release, and that it would be loyally supported.

Ashley suggested that a gunboat be sent to Callao.

Must Keep the Peace.

A Vienna dispatch says Russia has declared her determination to withdraw her support from Servia in the event of the latter's breaking the peace. Ljubibratics has arrived at Linz, where he is to be interned.

New Italian Minister.

A Times correspondent at Rome telegraphs there is little doubt that the ministry will be formed entirely from the Left, and allowing for [illegible] possible modification will be as follows: De Pretis, President of the Council and Minister of Finance; Nicotera, Interior; Coppino, Instruction; Mancini, Justice; Zanardelli, Public Works; Melegari, Foreign Affairs; Majorana, Commerce; Mezzacapo, War; Brochetti, Marine.

No Charge of Treason, as yet, against Von Arnim.

Attempt to Burn the City Hall.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—An attempt was made last night by some person unknown to burn the City Hall. A fire was started in the attic, but being badly arranged, burnt out without doing material damage. Had the attempt been successful, it would have resulted in the destruction of all the records and other public documents, and as a furious gale was blowing from the north, a sweeping conflagration might have followed.

Whisky Frauds.

The statements telegraphed from Chicago purporting to emanate from Special Revenue Agent Phillips concerning the whisky frauds on this coast, continue to attract attention. The recent indictment of Mappa, formerly deputy revenue collector at Los Angeles, is supposed to be a hard blow to the parties endeavoring to break up the fraudulent system prevailing, as he had been relied upon as an important witness by Phillips. His indictment was evidently instigated by the ring, as the offense on his part was purely technical. The Chronicle offers an explanation this morning of the grounds of complaint against him, which is not altogether full or accurate. It seems that Mappa ran short of stamps, and under instructions from superior officers issued receipts in lieu thereof, taking up the receipts and issuing stamps when the latter came to hand. When he closed his accounts on being removed and turned over the stamps in his possession, it was discovered that through inadvertence some of his receipts had not been taken up, which being brought to his attention he promptly made the amount good, and the business was satisfactorily settled. The present indictment was grounded on the discovery of an additional case of the same kind, the amount involved being only $5. Mappa's removal from office was merely to give place to a friend of a prominent California politician, not from any dissatisfaction with his discharge of duties.

Attempt to Defraud the Customs.

An evident attempt at defrauding the customs has been discovered, in which 29 cases of opium and 10 cases of silks received by the steamer Alaska from China last December, were supposed to have been transferred in bond on board the Colorado for Panama, and the necessary vouchers were filed in the custom house, but were in reality retained in this city for shipment to the interior. Attention was called to the matter by the discovery of the packages of silks in question in the Oriental warehouse, where they had been stored by some blunder of parties to the swindle. Special Navy Agent Mills is of the opinion that the practice prevails to a considerable extent. The matter has been referred to Washington.

Spalding Court Martial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—In the Spalding court martial to-day C. B. Higgins, naval secretary, gave some very pointed evidence to the effect that a navy certificate had been made out by Putney payable to the witness, although the witness had never had any transactions with the government. The witness was led to indorse the certificate, supposing it to be a note he was endorsing for Putney, who manipulated the document. Spalding's name was signed to the certificate, and in a subsequent interview concerning the matter he did not deny the signature.

The Archer R. R. Bill Probably Dead.

SACRAMENTO, March 22.—The Senate to-day passed the O'Connor railroad bill by a vote of 30 yeas to 9 nays, 2 absent. All other railroad bills were then tabled, which will probably kill the Archer bill.

Extraordinary Lode of Silver.

PRESCOTT, March 22.—An extraordinary development is reported in the Peck mine. At a depth of 160 feet the narrow stratas of ore come together and form a solid vein six feet wide, 18 inches of which assays $12,000 per ton, while the remainder will go $500 per ton.

Advices from Mineral Park are of the most cheering character. A new 5 stamp mill is running successfully, and working rock from various mines which yield an average of $200 per ton.

NEVADA.

Sudden Accidental Death.

CHERRY CREEK, March 22.—Peter Neumann, the proprietor of a brewery and saloon at this place, was suddenly killed this morning by the roof of his brewery cellar caving on him.

THE TERRITORIES.

Walla Walla has a jockey club fully organized.

A Spokane chief is preaching to the Bostons at Colfax, W. T.

R. Kennedy, of Dry Creek, Walla Walla county, has 30,000 acres sown in wheat.

The Grangers will build a warehouse on Snake river at the mouth of the Tukannon immediately.

A Black Hills adventurer writes that he often makes $5 in a single minute. He does it playing keno.

Three candidates for mayor of Olympia are already out: J. C. Horr, J. J. McGilvra and J. S. Dobbins. So says the Echo.

Business in the police court at Seattle is looking up. The recorder was busy all last week, one of the signs of the growth of the place.

The first term of the district court of the county of Snohomish, W. T., began its session at Snohomish on Tuesday, March 21, 1876. There was not far from a dozen cases on the docket.

[illegible]

The District Attorney of Idaho Territory has just completed his labor of thirteen days taking testimony in the Langford [illegible] case. Mr. Brents of Walla Walla was employed in behalf of the Government [illegible] numerous witnesses.

The Seattle [illegible] says a man named C. S. Burson, but known as "Keno," was drowned last Monday in the Cedar river. He was crossing in a skiff [illegible] and he was lost. The body has not been picked up.

Notwithstanding the discouragement of the low prices last season, the farmers of the [illegible] valley in several instances are increasing their acreage in hops. Probably 20 or 30 acres of new vines will be planted, making altogether not far from 150 of both old and new. The yield this year, it is estimated, will be a ton to the acre for the whole area planted.

On the 1st of December, 1875, the beginning of the quarter, the Territorial treasury of Washington Territory contained $6,807 68, since which time $27 491 27 have been added to it. Of this amount Walla Walla county paid much the larger portion, and King county next, Thurston, Clark, Pierce and Jefferson following in order. During the quarter thirty-five warrants aggregating $7 086 2[illegible] were paid. These warrants ranged along from No. 507 to 72[illegible]. The amount in the treasury is given at $26 202 62.

The Walla Walla Statesman understands that the merchants up there are making arrangements to have their freight taken from Walla Walla by land. The statement is that the teamsters contract to freight from the river at the rate of $5 per ton weight. The railroad charges are $4 50 per ton, to which is added $1 per ton for transfer, and 50 cents per ton from the depot, making a total of $6 per ton measurement, or full one fourth more than the teamsters charge. The statement is that the teams can get all the down freights they can carry at the railroad prices, and at these figures the teamsters will make fair wages. The argument of the storekeepers is, that so long as the teamsters do the business at railroad prices, it is better to patronize the teams, the reason being that teamsters trade with the storekeepers, and in that way much of the business can be done without the use of ready money.

OREGON.

Considerable stock is still reported as dying in Southeastern Oregon.

Parties arrived at Jacksonville last week by stage who had been 11 days on the road from Redding, California.

Jesse D. Carr, who has sheep at Clear Lake, has lost 3 800 out of 4,700 head, and will in all probability lose the entire band.

John Green arrived in the Klamath country a few days ago with 80 head of fine horses destined for the Black Hills market.

The Yamax Indians, in charge of Sykes Worden, are temporarily established on Lost river, for the purpose of fishing and hunting.

On the 12th of this month the Klamath river road to Yreka was still blockaded by deep snow, and will probably not be passable for vehicles before the middle of June.

The Ester Mining Company, of Roseburg and Oakland, Douglas county, have purchased E. G. Drowning & Co's quartz mill and ledges, on Grave creek, and have already commenced operations.

The March term of the circuit court for Jackson county, Hon. P. P. Prim judge, convened last Monday. Although but few criminal cases are liable to come up for trial, the civil docket is unusually long and embraces some knotty suits.

McWilliams & Co. are doing considerable work with their hydraulic, on Coyote creek, Southern Oregon, this spring. They picked up one hundred dollars in the last two weeks while piping. Their prospects of doing well this season are favorable.

The little town of Ashland is growing somewhat. There are about 90 persons clothed with the franchise, 203 children within the limits of the school district, 99 Good Templars, about 50 Templars, 30 Odd Fellows, 38 Rebekah members, 16 Masons and about 30 United Reformers.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Albany Fruit Preserving Company, held at the office of the company on Monday afternoon, the 20th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Allen Parker; Secretary, A. N. Arnold; Treasurer, P. C. Harper.

John G. Linterman, of Grant's Pass, informs the Jacksonville Times that two hydraulic pipes are kept busy on the lower claim of the English company's placer diggings on Galice creek, and that the agent, Mr. Bowe, is satisfied with the prospects thus far. Preparations are being made to put the other claims in working order.

A letter from Summer lake, Lake county, says: "We have the best climate here of any valley east of the mountains. No one has had to feed any stock (except sheep) for the past four winters, and we can raise anything here that has ever been tried. Barley yields 40 bushels per acre, wheat 25 and 30, oats 30 to 35. This is indeed a poor man's country."

THURSDAY MORNING MARCH 23, 1876

THE PENDLETON-BOWERS MUDDLE.

For some days past frequent mention has been made in the Eastern dispatches of a very [illegible] would have very [illegible] the reputation of George H. Pendleton, the leading [illegible] of the Democracy [illegible] the [illegible] which were to bear upon [illegible] of the late Secretary Belknap [illegible] was to [illegible] the [illegible] Bowers, Mrs. Belknap, Mrs. Bowers and the Kentucky Central Railway [illegible] the railway that he was [illegible] Mrs. Bowers [illegible] the [illegible] exchange [illegible] between May 1861 and August 1861 the Kentucky Central Railway was employed to transport United States troops and supplies under the orders of the War Department. For this service the company received payment. After the close of the war Mr. Pendleton, principal owner of the road, presented to the War Department a claim for $148,000 additional pay, on the ground that the payment actually received by the company was less by that amount than it would have been had compensation been allowed to it at the rate usually paid for transportation of military supplies. The case went of course to Gen. Meigs, Quartermaster General, who, after examination, rejected the claim. On the 25th of November 1870, Edwin M. Stanton, then Secretary, having been appealed to and having examined the claim, came to the same conclusion that Gen. Meigs had reached and decided that the claim should not be paid. When Gen. Rawlins became Secretary of War the claim was brought to his attention and he also rejected it. When Belknap was placed at the head of the War Department, Mr. Pendleton made a personal appeal to him for payment, the claim presenting a written argument in support of it. The case was again referred to Gen. Meigs and he sent the following communication to Secretary Belknap in regard to it:

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12, 1870.

To Hon. W. W. Belknap, Secretary of War. Sir: * * * The whole subject was presented during the war, carefully investigated and considered and decided by the Secretary of War. I can only advise that this action made by the officers of the war familiar with the general subject be not now disturbed. It appears to me that to reopen the case and reverse the decisions then made will be a bad precedent and will lead to interminable discussions upon claims to be set up by other corporations for insufficient allowance for military service since, or even prior to 1861. * * * I find nothing new in the case to be presented to induce me to think the action of the War Department of 1861 was erroneous.

M. C. MEIGS,
Quartermaster General.

But Mr. Pendleton was persistent. He went to Belknap in person, and the Secretary sent the case back to Meigs for a third examination, accompanied by an argument submitted by Pendleton. Meigs again reported adversely, saying in his report:

Stanton did not order it paid, and I think its payment by order of the Secretary of War now would be unwise and injudicious. If the company have any legal or equitable right to the allowance they ask, the Court of Claims and the houses of Congress are open to them. Every claimant for so large a sum not heretofore allowed will be able to set forth reasons for not having succeeded heretofore, and for [illegible] reversing the action of the Secretary of War under whose administration the service on which claims are based was rendered. It is not his [illegible] that the United States [illegible] be through the War Department liable to claims on account [illegible] done to any railroad by the enemy. The whole course of the argument of the Hon. Mr. Pendleton seems to me to be directed to [illegible] to establish such a principle. It has never by any act of the War Department been admitted.

It was then thought to have put a quietus on the matter, so far as application to the War Department was concerned. But it did not. On the 27th of May 1871, the claim turned up in the office of the Third Auditor with this endorsement:

I have no doubt as to the justice of the claim and the propriety of its allowance.

W. W. BELKNAP,
Secretary of War.

Upon this recommendation the Third Auditor settled the case in favor of Pendleton, and on the [illegible] of June 1871 Gen. Belknap issued the requisition for a treasury warrant payable to Mr. Pendleton. [illegible] the warrant was for $148,000 [illegible] the warrant and the payment all bear date June 12, 1871, showing that it was run through two departments in one day.

Thus far we see only persistence on the part of Pendleton [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

The Khedive is the largest land owner in Egypt. He owns a large portion of the tillable land in that country. This he cultivates according to the most scientific principles of modern husbandry. He has English and Scotch overseers, steam plows, painted machinery and fine stock. He raises annually very large crops, and his farms are kept in [illegible] [illegible] the expenses [illegible] [illegible]

The [illegible] to the Dutch government that it was desirable [illegible] Dutch [illegible] [illegible] paid in advance.

Mr. [illegible] Marsh [illegible] has applied for appointment [illegible] trader [illegible] which [illegible] such matters [illegible] the expenditures of the War Department that he obtained the post trader[ship] [illegible] of the Western posts through [illegible] a personal interest of [illegible] and that he was to pay for the same $7,000 per year.

The Montana legislature, after passing Mr. [illegible] railway bill, tabled all the other railway bills then before the body. The effect of this will probably be to kill off Archer's bill, which provided for the regulation of freights and fares, and for the creation of the [illegible] railway commissioner, whose duties were to be to see that the railways were fairly and honestly administered for the best interests of the people as well as for the stock and bondholders.

The Montana legislature, by what inducement we cannot say, at its last session, which recently ended, passed an act granting a subsidy of three million dollars to the Northern Pacific Railway. But it now appears that the people of Montana are by no means agreeable disposed thereto, and a protest against any taxation for the purpose of raising that amount of money or any other sum for the Northern Pacific Railway is being numerously signed.

It is stated in some of the papers that in order to make it certain that the Prince of Wales [illegible] at tiger shooting at [illegible] had one caught [illegible] and carefully trained for the Prince of Wales to kill. What kind of training the unfortunate beast underwent is not stated, nor are we informed whether the Prince enjoyed the sport, the slaughter of the animal must have afforded him.

President Grant is reported to have been rather unsympathetic with his perambulating secretary, when the latter confessed his sins or some of them before him. The late secretary is said to have exclaimed on that occasion, that he feel [illegible] like killing himself and Mr. Grant to have replied, "I wish you had killed yourself."

The general rule respecting office holders is that few die and none resign, the rule however has lately found some exceptions in the case of the bad fellow, W. W. Belknap, who went out under fire and in that of the other William A. Darling fellow, who resigned the office of appraiser for the port of New York.

In the Peck silver mine in Arizona an unusually rich lode of silver has been discovered at a depth of 160 feet. It seems that several small veins have been found to run into one and that a portion of the united veins assays the handsome sum of $15,000 per ton, while the rest assays at the rate of $800 per ton.

Russia has notified Servia that unless peace is preserved within her borders, and unless that country refrains from giving aid to the Herzegovinians, Russia will [illegible] tee her safety from the attacks of her enemies.

[illegible] Gentleman George Pendleton is now [illegible] of the most prominent Democratic candidates for President. Now he is useless for any purpose except as set off against Belknap.

CITY

DEATH OF MR. SAVIER.—M. D. W. Barr of this city received a telegram yesterday from Geo. W. Smiley, of San Francisco, conveying the sad intelligence of the death of Mr. Thomas A. Savier, the well known merchant of Portland. Mr. Savier died at Mr. Smiley's residence in San Francisco yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. For some time he has been severely afflicted with a chronic form of ... accompanied by his family ... for the purpose of consulting some of the skillful medical talent of New York, to see if he could obtain permanent relief, hoping likewise that travel recreation and change of scene would improve his condition. After extensive medical treatment for some time he started homeward and had reached San Francisco when the messenger of Death came. After a brief illness, he quietly passed away to the shadowy land beyond the grave. We understand that the direct cause of the death of Mr. Savier's death was ... contracted while crossing the ... Deceased was in his 54th year at the time of his death. Mr. Savier was one of the pioneers of the State having arrived in Oregon in 1850. For many years been engaged in merchandising in this city; at the time of his demise was associated with Mr. Jurmola in carrying on an extensive grocery and flouring business. Socially and in business circles, few men stood higher or enjoyed more sincere respect among his friends than did Mr. Savier. He was an upright, conscientious man in all the relations of life, a successful merchant, a true friend, a good citizen and a kind husband and father, and his death is sincerely regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Savier is at present stopping with friends in Michigan. The remains will be forwarded to this city for interment.

CAUSE OF COMPLAINT.—A great source of annoyance lately exists against the young boys of the city for their raid against property, throwing stones, breaking windows and entering the premises of untenanted houses, and and filth. This has become such a nuisance to property owners as to interfere with their procuring occupants. A case in point happened a few days ago with one of our real estate dealers, who accompanied a gentleman recently from the East to view a house to be had for sale, that was not occupied. Owing to the number of window panes broken and a general dilapidation of the premises the gentleman declined to purchase, remarking, "There appears to be no protection to property in your city, judging from the appearance of this; and such being the case I will not buy in this locality." This nuisance has become, which is ... caused by this circumstance, a great wrong to the property owners of our city, and as there is no redress against such acts, we think special attention of the authorities should be given to those who throw stones at, and otherwise destroy unoccupied houses. Our police officers are quite efficient and competent men, and are probably not aware of these occurrences else there would be no cause of complaint at this time. The acts are certainly committed by school boys, in what they term play on their way home from school, and like the fable of the frogs—"May be fun for them but death to the property owners." The acts being done in the evening make it difficult to find out and arrest the guilty parties.

A FINE HORSE.—Our attention was attracted yesterday by the handsome appearance of a bay horse which was being driven down street and which, in style, shape and manner seemed to be all that a carriage horse should be. Upon inquiry we were informed the animal was the Percheron stallion recently imported by Mr. Elijah Corbett. The horses of this breed are the best on the continent of Europe for light draft, and are used to the exclusion of all others in horsing the French diligences, where they give entire satisfaction, being strong, hardy and active enough to make excellent travelers. The amount of work done by them as stage horses is most wonderful, three of them drawing a heavy lumbering diligence, with ten or twelve passengers, at the rate of seven or eight miles an hour, without distress. It is just the sort of horse that is most useful to farmers and ... stock.

THE BOAT BETSY.—Capt. W. S. Buchanan, the young man who was the owner of and has had command of the well known tug ... Holladay, for some time, recently sold the steamer to the firm of James W. Cook & Co., of the Eagle Cliff salmon fishery. We are unable to state the price, but have every reason to presume that "Capt. Billy disposed of his boat at advantageous figures. Hereafter the Ben Holladay will be used in connection with Mr. Cook's extensive fishery and will be a very serviceable auxiliary in ... in the establishment. Capt. Buchanan will still have charge of the little steamer.

THE JOURNALIST TO SUPERVISE.—We observe that at a regular meeting of the common council of Salem our friend Mr. W. S. Chapman, who has been doing the local work on the Salem Journal for some time, was employed by the city fathers of that place to survey and recommend grades for the principal streets in that city, the work to be completed by the 4th of July next, and the surveyor to receive $500 for his labors.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, March 22, 1876:

THE STREET CARS.—For the benefit of the public, we will state that until the building which now obstructs First street (being "on the wing") from the corner of First and ... streets, to some more secluded locality is removed away, the street cars will be hauled every night at 10 o'clock. The public will please bear this in mind.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The Masken Kraenschen at Turn Halle last evening was well attended notwithstanding the fact that it was given among the Turners and invitations were extended to ... members of the society. The limited time for preparing costumes resulted in the absence of any original costumes though the display was quite creditable. Many appeared in ... and others partially disguised by a mask. At 11 o'clock the order to unmask was given. We present below the names of a few of the maskers deserving of mention: Miss ... Snowflake, Miss Brenner, fairy; Miss ... Keilenstein, peasant girl; Mrs. ... Evening star; Mrs. C. A. Alisky, Marquise de ...; Miss Voss, Swiss girl; Mrs. H. FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

First Day

As announced the Institute was opened March ... at 8:45 A. M. at Forest Grove, Washington county. Superintendent Rowland called the assemblage to order and Miss Spaulding, of Portland, was made temporary secretary.

After religious exercises Prof. Gault read the ... programme of work before the Institute.

... of Forest Grove was ... president; Miss Lydia ... of Hillsboro, vice-president; W. H. ... secretary; Miss ... of Forest Grove, assistant secretary. All these ... officers were elected without opposition.

... programmes have been ... Oregon ...

... Ellis was elected ... Dr. ... answered the question as to who ... saying that those ... who have been or plan to be teachers are members, and others ... may be elected honorary members to take part in the session. Miss Ella Watt, S. A. Walker, Mrs. Scott and ... Martin were appointed to ... committees.

Twenty minutes were left for arithmetic by Prof. Gault. He merely introduced the subject ... spoke of the fundamental rules ... would have spent on mechanical ... in addition ... multiplication, and then division would be learned easily ... abstract analysis which so young minds cannot retain ... combinations of numbers ... He showed how this ... of paramount worth. From 10 to 11 years the pupil ought to engage in ... mind does the real work in arithmetic from 12 to 25 years. Aim to have the figures read at sight. Subtraction is ... difference between two numbers is the number of units between them. He would give more time to fundamental rules than is commonly so allotted.

Mr. Palmer found it a good plan to add ... to arrive at the quotient of each column in a reverse order before leaving it.

Mr. Bailey thought the furthest way round the easiest way to find, since all the combinations of numbers, if once learned, are remembered but a short time.

Mr. Gault said that it ... added by reading numbers he must know them.

... Miss Spaulding and A. S. Watt were appointed critics for the day.

Prof. Marsh took up the matter of grammar in a general view of the science and its relations thus. Purposes of the study, how they are to be gained, at what period, how far is the study to be pursued, its connections, branches of grammar in its widest sense.

Mr. Lyman liked the criticism upon Josh Billings' orthography and rhetoric.

Palmer had awakened interest in the dry study by showing pupils erratic sentences.

Marsh offered this resolution: Resolved, That in the opinion of this Institute grammar should not generally be taught, excepting orally to children under ten years of age.

Rowland was in favor of the resolution.

Watts would take grammar orally, continually, not exclusively.

Gault: Some of the text books are simple and so like oral grammar that a pupil may learn something by reading, thus lessen the teacher's work. Mix the book and the lecture and save time.

Marsh said grammar was very much learned by absorption ... hearing reading, etc.

Baily had taken a class orally through the verb conjugation and they ... saw the use of the study more in this way.

[Here lady speakers were called for.]

Collier: Continue oral instruction until interest is aroused in the pupil; no definite age can be fixed when technical grammar must begin.

Miller: Had found it difficult to teach and hard for a class to hold an idea. Every kind of mind is aroused by oral instruction; the recitation might be followed and preceded by it.

Wait ... a substitute that grammar should not be taught as a science until the reasoning power is developed.

The original resolution was carried.

Voted that those persons eligible be honorary members and participate.

An invitation of the College faculty that the Institute occupy the chapel was accepted.

The subject of Botany was taken up at 11 o'clock, presented by Miss Hattie Collier in an exhaustive terse view of what might be taught pupils although this is not a study in the State course. The science we were told was not burdened with over-many terms, and it might be taught in five minute talks and by object lessons. The lady presented familiar examples of the bulb and roots of leaves in all their varied forms of the perfect flower with its perianth and essential organs, and the distinguishing marks of varieties. With out the text book children may be interested thus in the beauty of Nature. It sets them to thinking.

[Here a call was heard for lady speakers.]

... thought such a diversion as Botany a ... discipline.

Rowland had been pleased with the presentation of the subject.

Walter ... urged that ... attention was paid to Natural Sciences in schools.

... thought otherwise.

Gault and others ... to the practical ... Botany by remarks ...

Miller called attention to ...

Mrs. Martin offered this resolution: That the study of botany by practical instruction and ... be encouraged in district schools. Carried.

Adjourned until 1 o'clock P. M.

Afternoon Session.

Called to order by the President. Music ...

... errors of the morning, and ... teachers who are always under this ... fire. Appropriately it was said the Institute is no place for scattering remarks. Have something to say, say it to the point and ... speeches.

Prof. ... presented geology in his usual entertaining way, and it would be useless to ... statements at random from his ever ... lectures ... well enough ...

The subject of reading was taken up at 2 o'clock by Mrs. Spiller. Elocution is a ... for which time and labor are requisite. Articles for reading should have intrinsic merit ... sound ... to teach ... sound education and respect for things sacred is necessary. Reading suitable to the age of pupils ought to be selected. A class exercise to illustrate Mrs. Spiller's ... was most excellent ... pupils ...

Evening Session.

[illegible]

President Robb called the Institute to order and announced criticisms of the afternoon. They were freely given for the good of all concerned and in the best of feeling. Music.—A Greeting Glee.

Address of welcome in the name of the community by Rev. J. J. Ellis. Response, F. R. Coon of East Portland. Music—a quartette.

Essay by Miss Goodell of this county. The writer delineated most happily the subject of Courage. The production was another one of the good things it is a privilege to hear. Music—a chorus piece.

President Robb now introduced to the assembly ... who, for about an hour held his auditors spellbound by an address upon Church and State. It is unwise to attempt a summary of what must be heard to be appreciated.

After the address ... closing piece of music. Adjourned to ... o'clock to-morrow.

The Institute has opened auspiciously. Mr. ... enthusiasm is manifest by the teachers and friends. Miss Sadie Bawlby and her coadjutors in the musical line do much toward the entertainment of each session.

DISTRICT COURT AT VANCOUVER.

On Tuesday afternoon the court heard the argument of Judge Strong in support of a motion for judgment on the papers in favor of the defendant in the case of G. W. Johnson et al vs The Cascade Railroad Company. J. N. Dolph, Esq., appeared as the attorney for plaintiff. The arguments were lengthy and went into deeper mazes of the law than is usual at this court. This case was brought in 1870. Mr. Dolph said that two of his clients had died since the suit was brought and he hoped the case would be determined some time before his other client, himself and Judge Strong were dead also. Judge Strong replied that Mr. Dolph's remaining client was Ben Butler and there was no immediate danger of his demise. Yesterday morning Judge Greene overruled the defendant's motion and it is supposed the case will come on this term for trial. Several witnesses are in attendance ... the jury. ... the number is J. W. Brazee, of the Cascades. This case is one of considerable importance, being a suit for $20,000 damages for the alleged wrongful taking ... of land for railroad purposes.

... yesterday the grand jury had returned no indictments.

The following named persons have been admitted to citizenship: Alexander Davidson, Diedrich Meyer, Wm. Farrell and James McDonald.

In the suit of Joseph Ferran vs Vancouver School District the death of the plaintiff was suggested and the cause submitted by the counsel to the judge for a decision of the law questions involved.

GOLDEN CITY NOTES.

Kazetta, who is now doing San Francisco, sends the following notes under date of the 14th inst.:

Thinking that a short letter from this place would not prove uninteresting to your readers, I venture to write a few lines.

St. Patrick's day dawned with fair weather and it is generally admitted that there has never been a more successful celebration of the day than the one just closed. At this writing the principal ceremonies of the occasion are things of the past and a thing ... remains to excite the enthusiastic admirers of Ireland's Patron Saint, save the performances at the different theatres, which have been prepared especially for the occasion, and the annual balls of the several Irish societies.

San Francisco is improving and growing very rapidly and I predict that ... other decade she will rank third or fourth in the list of American cities.

Handsome buildings are in course of construction in every direction and Market street bids fair to become the Broadway of the city. ... the ... street in the city, and ... are located the Palace and Grand hotels, besides ... Baldwin's new hotel and Academy ... which of themselves are enough to make it a popular thoroughfare.

THEATRICAL.

The theater-going public are ... paying ... through the engagement at the different theaters of some of the most noted talent from the East.

... Academy of Music and ... proved a great success. ... physical development ... rendition of the character of ... Richard Third ... has ... Davenport ... Lawrence Barrett.

At Wade's Opera House they have a double attraction in the persons of Theodor Wachtel, the great lyric tenor, and Joe Murphy, the renowned Irish comedian. They play on alternate nights and Mr. Wachtel is supported by the talented Italian Opera Troupe. I witnessed their performance of Il Trovatore, and in the character of Manrico Mr. Wachtel fully justifies his great reputation.

Mary F. Scott Siddons is now playing the last week of her engagement at the California theater and she has not been a financial success to the management. Her "Lady Teazle" in the "School for Scandal" was fully up to the standard and her failure to draw paying audiences must be attributed to the great attractions elsewhere, and to the very ungenerous newspaper criticisms of her first performances.

Mrs. James A. Oates and her highly talented comic opera troupe are about winding up a very successful season at Maguire's new theater.

The minstrels are having very full performances and I cannot understand why the public supports them.

Herald's orchestral matinees at Platt's Hall are very enjoyable and the price of admission is but a trifle compared to the real worth of the entertainment.

I almost forgot to mention Mr. and Mrs. R. Fulford, both of whom are now filling an engagement at Wade's Opera House. Mrs. Fulford, ... Snow Lake, created quite a sensation and established herself as a favorite with the public.

PERSONAL.

There are quite a number of Portlanders here in the city.

Hon. H. W. Corbett and wife were guests at the Palace up to last Monday, when they started East.

Mr. George H. Strong arrived this evening and is stopping at the Occidental.

Messrs. J. D. Backenstos, Joseph Kohn and Mr. Roberts of the firm of Fishel & Roberts have been stopping at the Cosmopolitan, but I think they start for home by the steamer which sails to-morrow.

Mr. B. Barnett and J. B. Weeks, Esqs., are at the Lick House.

J. D. Scharff, formerly of J. O'Neil & Co., is now connected with the clothing house of J. Baum & Co., Market street.

Ben. Leal, Esq., is located in the law office of Sydney I. Johnson on Montgomery street.

Mr. Wm. Courtier has made a great deal of money in stocks, and it is said he made a small fortune by the late rise in Mexican.

San Francisco has many attractions, but it is seldom one can find an Oregonian who prefers living here. To thoroughly enjoy one's self money is required without stint, and there are but few who can provide the necessary means. I would write more, but I am pressed for time.

The Only Way to Conquer Dyspepsia. It is perfectly preposterous to introduce pepsin or other artificial solvents into the stomach in the expectation that they will assist digestion by acting on the food itself. They will not. Nor is it possible thus to overcome dyspepsia. The only way to conquer that disorder and prevent the numerous diseases and disabilities which it assuredly provokes, is to renew the activity of gastric ... by strengthening the stomach. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters ... vital energy ... and the nerves ... the invigorative ... for good ... what they would otherwise possess.

An Extended Popularity.—Each year finds Brown's Bronchial Troches in new localities in various parts of the world. For relieving Coughs, Colds and Throat Diseases the Troches have been proved reliable.

It is well to get clear of a cold the first week, but it is much better and safer to rid yourself of it the first forty eight hours—the proper remedy for the purpose being Dr. Jayne's Expectorant.

WHAT AILS THE PEOPLE

[illegible]

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Reports have gained credence that the people [illegible] eastern portion of [illegible] county have [illegible] the part asked to be struck off is nearer Portland than the county seat. Washington county that Portland offers to build the roads leading out, and make them better than Washington county could ever hope to. [illegible] the Democratic vote in Washington county lying mostly in the section to be sliced off would assist the that [illegible] in the elections that in times past those votes brought money in Portland [illegible] it is said that one of the petitioners is a strong candidate for the legislature but as he don't know yet which county he may be, he don't know where to apply for his said office. Another reason given by one of the seceders is that as no district officer is allowed to be nominated and elected outside of Portland he wants to have it said that he lives in the county that gets the offices.

Your correspondent don't know just the nature of the quarrel between Jeptha King of Israel, and his people, but one thing is certain—in a clear sky and open field a man may take a bout with the fathers in Israel but let an enemy approach all [illegible] at once. In union there is strength.

We have had a remarkable winter. The elements have spread it on thick and no wonder the people are all mad and consider themselves badly used. But the [illegible] congratulate our officers in the enjoyment of perfect sleep guaranteed to them by the constitution, notwithstanding the [illegible] of this county says he has [illegible] the county for mileage for assessing the county amounting to 1,250 miles for he never expects to run for office in this county again. (I second the motion.) Ezekiel while you're gittin', git enuff, but be careful of the [illegible] it's a pillow to the weary, and [illegible] to the helpless, as well as a two edged sword." None of the officers seemed to know that the county was [illegible] but an attorney was found who informed me that the matter has been argued and submitted before Judge Shattuck on agreement of parties, according to his best knowledge.

Now in all candor what do they expect to gain by the people of that section being struck off to Portland? The section embraces about 70,000 acres of land that is now worth more in dollars and cents than the best prairie land in the county, on account of locality and richness of soil and timber. Portland could well afford to spend a thousand or two dollars on the roads for the benefit of the tax accruing while the loss to this county would enhance the rate on what is left; yet if they must come let Portland have the benefit of the Democratic vote of Washington county assessor and all. The main thing to be regretted is the proposed line takes in Beaverton, and we will have to go into Multnomah county to buy our onions, and the city won't let us buy them without a license.

It is hard to think that the unborn generations in Washington county are now crying out for the want of hay and onions and "the Constitution." Yamhill wants a slice on the south of four miles, and Tillamook an outlet on the west of twenty miles, and no one knows but what the Custom House at Astoria will take the balance, and Washington county will only consist of Judge Humphrey and Col Cornelius as boundaries, with Dad Simmons as a corner post.

IS IT TRUE!

A railroad is two bars of iron for wheels to run on straight. The Salt Lake Railroad hasent got nary bar of iron. It is made altogether of rezlutions. A railroad is mighty big if it is big. When it is a big humbug is the time when it is at its biggest. It seems that sometimes a man can build a railroad when he cant build anything else. However geniuses will always be favorites with everybody except the fool killer.

I have concluded to survey a railroad to cut right to the moon. No snow sheds will be required on this line and the Suez canal will never be any harm to my line of railroad—the railroad wont never be built is the reason. In order to shorten distances on a [illegible] per I have concluded to make the starting point on Marquam's Hill, which will be a great advantage to capital. The interchange of commodities between here and the moon will be an immense trade. The staple articles in the moon are rhinoceroses horned cattle (horns five and a half yards long) zebras and musquetoes—of the two latter the musquetoes are the larger.

My proclamation to be issued in two or three days will be exhaustive of fifteen different languages, and all on the subject of railroads.

WASHINGTON COUNTY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

HILLSBORO March 21 1876

Notice is hereby given that the Washington county Republican primaries will be held in the several precincts at their usual place of voting on Wednesday April 19 1876, at 10 o'clock A M for the purpose of electing delegates to the County Convention, to be held at Hillsboro on Wednesday April 26 1876 at 1 o'clock P M, for the purpose of electing four delegates to the Republican State Convention to be held in Portland on Wednesday May 3 1876 at 10 o'clock A M and making nominations for the various State and county offices.

In making this call your committee realize the fact that too much importance cannot be attached to preliminary operations these form the ground work of political organizations. [illegible] is the source of government. [illegible] honest men desire honest officials [illegible] so much that they lay aside for a day all other business affairs and devote the time necessary to select proper persons to attend county and State conventions and place in nomination for the various offices men honest and true who can and will choose wisely for the good of the people.

We hereby call upon all who are in sympathy with the Republican party to do their whole duty in this matter.

[illegible] as the [illegible] volume of business [illegible] and the latter will be very dull when money is plenty [illegible] throughout the country [illegible] direction [illegible] commercial reputation [illegible] with [illegible] Merchants generally during the past year or two have been trying to curtail their credits and the [illegible] has tended to [illegible] the [illegible] business [illegible] them to operate [illegible] There is [illegible] to cut down expenses [illegible] cash and [illegible] been constantly annoyed by a mass of sharpers who [illegible] the credit system have purchased goods [illegible] converted them to cash at market rates and then availed themselves of the defective bankrupt law to swindle their creditors. The effect of this has been to draw the lines of credit much closer and to place all commercial transactions on a better basis.

An important ruling was made in the [illegible] court at New York a few days ago in the suit of [illegible] the Adams Express Company. Judge Wallace held that the clause in an express company's receipt limiting its liability to $50 unless the value of the package shall be stated by the shipper at the time of the shipment, was a binding contract and that the plaintiff who had not so stated the value of his package could only recover that amount even though the actual loss had been occasioned by negligence of defendant.

Domestic Produce

In the wheat market there is nothing new to-day. Exporters still decline to quote at more than $1 [illegible] for average lots while larger parcels command an advance of [illegible] per cental. The receipts at this time are quite equal to the demand as shippers have no vessels in port but of which the cargoes are alongside and millers are not buying very liberally. The flour trade is still brisk though the local demand is fair for the season and [illegible] barrels were shipped to San Francisco by the Idaho which sailed this morning. There is hardly so urgent demand for ground feed as existed earlier in the season but prices are well sustained under somewhat lessened receipts. Oats are firm at current rates and all fair lots offering are freely taken at our quotations. Commission houses and jobbers are doing a fair business in provisions and the demand for staple commodities is quite brisk. Some lines show an advance [illegible] per lb. Eggs are declining though still up to an average price for this period in the season. There is as yet not much interest manifested in wool this season, though buyers are abroad and the market bids fair to be lively when once it opens. Advices from the Eastern and manufacturing districts indicate that the demand will be of larger volume than that of last year and if so we may look for an appreciating market but prices are likely to start in quite as low as at the opening last spring. The spring clip of Oregon will be but little if any larger than last year.

PLUMMER FRUIT DRYER.

AS A PROOF OF WHAT I HAVE HERETOFORE stated to the people of Oregon I give below a letter from the Plummer Fruit Drying Co of East Portland. After the close of business of 1875 fully endorsing it after using it one entire season and as a proof to substantiate what they say they now contemplate putting up another Dryer of the same capacity of the one they now have which will increase their capacity to five hundred bushels of apples per day. Having now located here in Portland for the purpose of supplying the demand for Fruit Dryers in Oregon and Washington Territory I can supply these dryers at a cost of from $1 000 to $5 000, according to capacity. Warranted to dry from 1 to 20 bushels of apples per hour, at a small cost for labor and fuel. These machines being so cheap and simple in construction they cannot fail to supersede all other known machines. I would also say to the fruit growers that I have invented a Machine (and am now waiting for a patent) that will cut and spread the fruit on the trays with a very small amount of labor. I also have invented a Peach Parer that is an entirely new principle paring soft as well as hard does its work well with great speed and slices and pits the fruit ready for the Dryer in the best possible manner, and at a great saving in quantity of fruit.

Having become somewhat acquainted with the wants of the people I find that a cheap DRYER is what is wanted and one that will do good work and a large amount of it I have so modified my Dryer as to meet that demand and can now guarantee my CHEAP DRYER to do as good work as any and as large an amount of it and the price is within the reach of all.

FRUIT DRYER TESTIMONIALS.

EAST PORTLAND Jan 4th 1875

MR W S PLUMMER—Dear Sir: As this is a time when all are much interested in Fruit Drying we think that in justice to you and for the information of the public it is but right and proper that we should give all the information that we can. Now after having operated your Dryer during the season we feel warranted in saying that for the amount of money invested we still believe as we did from the start that your Dryer is the best Dryer yet introduced into this country. The capacity of the Dryer we find to be about 6 (eight bushels) per hour. The [illegible] fruit we claim to be as good as any though [illegible] not as much bleached as the Alden [illegible] and we are satisfied that we can produce [illegible] at less expense than the Alden. The stockholders of our Company manifested their confidence in the Plummer Dryer at a recent meeting last Saturday [illegible] capital stock $12,000 (twelve thousand dollars) for the purpose of adding one more Dryer to the present one [illegible] other improvements [illegible] We will further say that we believe [illegible] improvement made by the patentee in [illegible] will be an increase of capacity and a saving of fuel.
